

What is your biggest 'concern' about attending academic conferences?

34 responses

What's your big learning from today?

Building confidence with answering questions

Networking skills

Talking about my research with someone else concisely

How to respond the question and prepare for the presentation and social

That I'm not the only one who feels scared and experiences anxiety and imposter syndrome.

Preparing conferences.

How to make a elevator pitch

Going to the conference with some standard questions ready to go.

What's your big learning from today?

Prep for the conference that isn't just about your presentation

How to prepare myself

Everyone's in the same boat

So many.... How to start a small talk
How to prepare an engaging and effective presentation
How to answer questions
Preparation needed even before registering for conference

Use the three approach to build my story

Always be prepared for the conference

Breaking up your research in 3s of 3s as a prep before communicating to conference audience.

3 magic ; potential answers to questions; different goal of different person to be one conference

What went well for you today?

Everything! I really enjoyed it. ❤️

Understanding how to network effectively and answer challenging questions

Lots of interaction and able to learn from others experience. Also enjoyed standing up a bit

Networking(?)

Meeting lots of people, good interaction

Whole session

Meeting other people from the SCDTP and finding out how others would approach different situations

Everything honestly. This was one of the best presentations I've ever listened to. Perfect 😊

What went well for you today?

Very relevant

Learning how to articulate research better.

Everything

Warm & nice facilitator

Everything!

Even better if...

More breaks but longer time in total

Breakfast coffee provided

Everything was covered. Can't think of anything!

An extra hour

The refreshment. (Not a complain)

Some more time to practice - maybe some individual time for specific conference challenges